Vedette Directory.

UTAH.

Area, 100,302 square miles—Population 70,000.

The Capital, Great Salt Lake City, (Population, 17,000,) situate on the great highway westward, is the grand centre of the golden circle comprising Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona. The City is one of the most beautiful in the Union, and the largest between St. Louis and Sacramento. Its scenery of mountains is majestic, and its view of islands and Lake is peerlessly picturesque.

The City proper is a square of three miles each side, and contains 260 blocks, of 10 acres each, (each divided into 8 lots,) and 4 public squares. Its level streets, running due east and west, and north and south, are 128 feet wide, with shade trees along either sidewalk, and living streams of water flowing by both sides of every street, to irrigate the fruit trees and gardens.

The Territory is divided into twenty counties, the towns of which range from 6,000 to 600 population.

SOME FACTS IN NATURAL SCIENCE.

According to the French chemist, Lavoisier, the human body exhales about three and one half pounds of aqueous matter daily. A large cabbage has been forced to exhale twenty ounces of water from its surface.

If the surface of a frog be covered with oil it will speedily die, so important to its existence is the cutaneous respiration. The lungs of a frog can only be filled with air by an action resembling swallowing. Sea-weeds absorb their food by their whole surface, the so-called roots appearing only to serve the purpose of attachments.

The poison of the most venemous serpent may be taken into a healthy stomach without injury, but the smallest portion introduced into the circulating system may produce speedy death.

All food for plants must be so divided as to be able to pass through a cellular membrane. The roots of plants are never provided with open mouths. There is no plant that does not furnish supplies to some animal.—[Maine Farmer.

ONE STAMP mills are a noticeable institution in Owyhee. Nearly every house, cabin and hole in the ground, occupied by a human being, has its one-stamp mill, in the shape of a hand mortar or quicksilver tank, and a horn spoon to pan out or amalgamate in. There is no such thing as estimating the amount of bullion extracted from Owyhee rock by this simple process, but it must be immense. We are informed that a washerwoman up near the Oro Fino mine, has erected a sort of mill with a sweep overhead not unlike an old fashioned well apparatus, with which she stamps enough out of croppings and rock as is lying around loose, as to make twice the wages that her husband does who works by the day. That couple struck it when they married. It is not every woman, though, who would run a one-stamp mill so successfully—even in Owyhee.—Owyhee Avalanche.

The [illegible]

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. [illegible], 1865

Disastrous Fire at Camp Douglas.

Yesterday morning about five o'clock, the Corporal of the Guard at Camp Douglas, while in the act of relieving the sentinels on duty at the Commissary Warehouse, discovered a light in the building. Running to the window he saw a fire immediately under a pile of whisky barrels. He promptly gave the alarm, and the two sentinels simultaneously fired their muskets. At that instant, and ere either could force an entrance, the whisky in the barrels took fire and exploded, scattering flame and destruction all around. The liquor flowed along the floors, and becoming instantly ignited, the whole interior of the building, as if by magic, was a sheet of flame.

The structure was an immense frame building, about forty by one hundred and fifty feet, and was filled from cellar to dome with the large commissary supplies lately received for the troops of the District. The Camp was aroused and almost superhuman efforts exerted by Col. Potter, the officers and men, to save the stores and adjoining buildings. The Commissary building was almost instantly a seething mass of flame, and comparatively few of the Subsistence stores were saved. By dint of great exertions the Quartermaster's building adjoining was preserved, but a shed containing grain was destroyed and part of the oats damaged. The loss is a severe one to the Government, and stores of immense value have been lost at a season when it will be difficult to replace them. But those saintly individuals, who yesterday so blithely and complacently rubbed their Godly hands over the catastrophe and the prospect of enormous profits to be extorted from Government by them and their sort, will be sadly disappointed. A portion of the stores, bacon, sugar, &c., though damaged, have been saved, and there is considerable of a surplus on hand at Bridger, so that the Government is not wholly dependent on either producers or merchants. We understand that several of the loyal merchants stand ready to assist the Government to the extent of their ability, without seeking to extort famine prices for the few articles needed by the Commissary Department in this emergency.

We heard of one sleek, fat, holy man of Zion, rolling up his sanctimonious eyes yesterday at the calamity and informing the by standers that "Yea verily this is a dispensation of Providence, for the manifold iniquities of Camp Douglas." Bro. Faust, however, whispered in his ear, "friend——how about my stable the other day, are Brigham and the Lord after me, too?"

Without controverting the pious idea that Heaven set fire to the building, we may say that a most searching investigation is being made by a commission of officers detailed for that purpose, and the real truth will probably come to light at an early day. In the meantime, we would caution our readers not to give heed to the hundred rumors flying about. As yet, all is wrapped in mystery. That the fire was not accidental is highly probable, as no fire was on the premises and everything was secure when the building was locked up for the night, at sundown. No person had proper ingress after night, and the catastrophe may be set down to some imp of Satan, rather than to any special Divine agency.

Let our Mormons friends keep perfectly cool, and the guilty whoever they be, keep a sharp lookout.

From Soda Springs, Idaho.

SODA SPRINGS, Dec. 9, 1865.

Editor Vedette:—Thus far little has been done to bring this section into public notice, bordering, as it does, so closely on the Mormon hierarchy, whose fetid breath falls like a mildew on everything christian-like or moral that passes under its shadow. It has lawlessly passed the limits of its own corrupt jurisdiction, and dared to pollute the sacred soil of Idaho with its polygamic poison, hurling defiance in the very teeth of civil authority.

This, however, will not continue.

The "institution," if allowed to exist at all, shall coil its slimy folds, within its own Territorial lines, obtaining sanction from its own corrupt legislation.

Idaho will not be responsible neither to God nor the nation in the sanction of such an immoral and sacrilegious system.

Where we may be, when this session of Congress adjourns, is hard to say. We can only hope we may be in a new territory, as it is believed, by all who are at all conversant with the country, that one may be created without injury either to Idaho or Montana; and I believe it has not been discovered yet what would injure Utah, unless it is an immigration from the Ferjee's!

Whether the Bill organizing the Territory of Wyoming will become a law, or some other one, slicing more or less from Utah and Idaho, is uncertain.

Much will undoubtedly depend upon the report of the Commission on Territories, which gave the country a personal examination, [illegible]

Wyoming is certainly a beautiful name, and although there is "nothing in a name," yet we like a fair name and Morality and patriotism will spread their bright wings at the wound thus inflicted on the lingering twin-relic of barbarism!

When the doctrine of the immortal Douglass shall have been fully carried out, in which he said: "I would drive a stake in the centre of the Temple, and divide it into four parts," and the Pacific Rail Road shall connect Sacramento with New York, then will loyal civilization spread her benign influence over this beautiful Great West!

The "cloven foot," so long accustomed to trampling in the dust all moral and civil law, begins to make "tracks" towards the door of right and justice; and the hand that has held in its foul, unclean grasp, the very throat of truth and honor, of justice and of liberty, has at last been forced to relax its hold, and will soon fall powerless on the pale corpse of that same putrefied body that has hitherto sustained it!

This dark cloud of ignorance and influence of "false prophets," shall pass away together, or be swept off, root and branch, from the fair face of this free and enlightened Republic, "unsung, unmourned and unhonored." God speed the time!

It appears by the postal advertisements for 1866-70, that there is some prospect for the people of Soda Springs and Oneida Co., Idaho, to have mail communication.

Now is the time for contractors to put in their bids. The contract from Fort Bridger to Hell Gate, and also from Ft. Bridger to Ft. Benton, affords a splendid opportunity for investment.

A line of coaches from Bridger to Virginia City, M. T., beside the mail, would do a large passenger business during the entire year. Mails would be delivered from the east at Virginia City in from forty to sixty hours less time than now, beside the increased security, both to mails and passengers, by avoiding the notorious "Robbers' runaway," the "Port Neuf Cañon," and saving both time and money to travelers to and from the east. Then Soda Springs will become known and attract the attention she is worthy of.

I think I can say, without fear of contradiction, that there is not another place in the west that affords the variety of good and health giving water that Soda Springs does; and, although, at present, our town is small, we have the consolation of knowing that at one time, Great Salt Lake City and even New York were also quite small. Saratoga was once very insignificant and might have been to day, were it not for her mineral springs.

The Rail-road, will one of these days have its way through here, as it is undoubtedly the best route that can be found,—the Bear Mountains being the only barrier from the Missouri to the Sierras.

The snows of chill December have enveloped the mountains and valleys alike in their frosty embrace The snowy shroud emblem of death, tells us of the near end of 1865; even now we begin to dream of Christmas and New Year. Horo.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Washington, Dec. 18.

Mr. Grimes presented the petition of Vice Admiral Farragut and eleven hundred other naval officers, asking an increase of pay. Referred to Committee on naval affairs.

Mr Wilson offered a resolution providing for the appointment of an examining board to relieve Officers, of the regular army, who have not rendered meritorious service, in the late war, and to fill their places by appointments from the regular army, veteran reserve corps and the volunteer force. Referred to the Military Committee

Mr. Anthony from committee on printing, reported favorably the resolution to print a thousand copies of the Quarter Master General's report. Adopted.

The resolution for the expenditure of a million dollars for the support of destitute Indians – Passed.

Wilson offered a bill to grant a million acres of public land for the benefit of public schools in the District of Columbia. Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

The Senate went into executive session.

Wilson introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the manner in which American vessels, transferred during the rebellion, to British owners are now being furnished with American registers; and if this be not according to law, what legislation is necessary to prevent it.—Adopted.

Nye presented a bill to adjust the boundary lines between California, Nevada and Utah. Referred to Committee on Territories.

Brown presented a bill to authorize the construction of a bridge over the Mississippi River at St Louis. Referred to committee on Post Offices and Roads.

Doolittle introduced a bill in relation to the qualification of jurors, and to writs of error in certain cases, which provides that no person shall be held incompetent to act as a grand Juror by reason of having formed or expressed an opinion upon the matter in question formed upon public rumor, statements of public journals or the common history of the times, provided he be otherwise competent, and it appears to the satisfaction of the Court, that notwithstanding such opinion, he can and will act impartially; and further provides that in trials for public [illegible] which [illegible] ed to consider and report by what token of respect and affection it may be proper to express the deep sensibility of the nation to the event of the decease of the late President, Abraham Lincoln, have, according to order, had the same under consideration, and as the result of their deliberations, reported appropriate resolutions, and recommend their adoption.

They are in brief, that both houses, heads of departments, and invited dignitaries shall, on the 12th of February next, the late President's birthday, meet in the House, when an address on the life and character of President Lincoln shall be delivered by Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War.

Mr. Trumbull introduced a bill in relation to Court of Claims, repealing the 14th section of the act of March 3d 1863, to amend the act to establish Court and allowing an appeal to be taken in all cases mentioned in the fifth section of that act, at any time within 90 days after the passage of this bill, except in cases where the amount found due by said Court have been paid at the Treasury The bill was referred to Committee on Judiciary. Henderson introduced a bill concerning Judicial Courts of the U. S giving to District Courts of the U. S original cognizance of all suits now originally cognizable by Circuit Courts of the U. S., and allowing all suits by appeals and writs of error, now pending in Circuit Courts, to be certified to in Courts established by this act, it also provides that hereafter there shall be in each Judicial District only one Circuit Court of the U. S the Judge of which shall be a Justice of the Supreme Court assigned to that Circuit and District Judge of said Circuit. The bill was referred to Committee on Judiciary. The Senate then on motion of Mr. Trumbull went into an executive session. Soon after opening the doors it again adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, Dec. 18.

Price of Iowa, offered a Resolution which was referred to the Committee on reconstruction, that no State recently in rebellion ought to be entitled to representation until such State shall by its Legislature or proper constituted authorities, adopt amendments to the constitution recurring the payment of national debts and repudiating the rebel debt Smith, of Kentucky, presented the credentials of Johnson, member elect from Arkansas. Referred to select Committee on reconstruction. Baker, of Illinois, offered a Resolution declaring it against class rule and aristocracy as a privileged power, and asserting the duty of securing the largest attainable liberty to all persons, irrespective of race or color. Referred to select Committee on reconstruction. Moulton, of Illinois, offered a Resolution which lies over, calling on the President to inform the House why Jefferson Davis has not been brought to trial for treason. Washburn, of Illinois, introduced a bill repealing fishing bounties. Referred to Committee on Commerce. The House tabled Thornton's Resolution declaring that the elective franchise exclusively belong to the regulations of States. Orth, of Indiana, moved that the President be called on to inform the House, or furnish the House with any information, as to the application of the so-called Mexican Empire, to obtain recognition from the United States. The House concurred in the Senator's Resolution for a suitable observance of the 12th, of February, on account of the death of President Lincoln. The House passed the bill appropriating $25,000, a year's salary of President Lincoln. Wilson, of Iowa, reported a bill extending the right of suffrage to the District of Columbia, which was made the special order for the 10th, of January. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, made a speech on the subject of reconstruction, arguing that the late rebellious States must come back into the Union, as new States, or remain as conquered provinces. That the whole subject was in the power of Congress.

New York, Dec. 18.

The Commercial's Washington despatch says, there are indications that Congress will revoke the City Charter of Washington, and make the District of Columbia a Territory, with a delegate in the House.

The London Times indulge in a friendly editorial towards America, founded on Seward's despatch in relation to Lincoln's assassination, and says, England has no objection to the extension of American territory, either by Mexico or Canada, provided it is done honestly and with the consent of the people concerned. British Parliament is summoned to meet the 1st of February. The assent of Queen Victoria to the betrothal of Princess Helena, and Prince Christian, Holstien, is officially promulgated.

SALE OF MINERAL LANDS.—The course of Messrs. Colfax and Ashley, in opposing the survey and sale of the mineral lands will exercise considerable influence over the fate of that measure. Both gentlemen have made themselves thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of the miner, and satisfied themselves that the policy in question would act with fatal effect upon the welfare of the class to whom this State is chiefly indebted for its position. Of all divisions of our population, the miners most require protection, and have invariably been the last to receive it. Let us hope that this year some legislation will be adopted which will secure each laborer in the full possession of his claims and relieve him of his fears.—Sacramento Bee

We notice the smiling face of our friend Capt. John C. Anderson still about town. John is a good boy, and has faithfully served our Uncle Sam for the past four years as an officer of the First Colorado. He is now a citizen, and we congratulate him, and hope we may see the light of his countenance in the mountains frequently.—Colorado Register.

Yes, you bet he is. Few finer soldiers, gentlemen and scholars, scarcely can be culled from Colorado's choicest citizens.

We are asked, "Who writes the Petroleum Nasby letters?" The author of those quaint and pointed epistles is Alfred Burnett, the elocutionist and public reader, of Cincinnati.—Chicago Journal.

The Journal mistakes. Mr. J. R. Lock, of the Findley, (O.) Jeffersonion, is Petroleum V. Nasby.

Local and Miscellaneous.

Put diamond be thy point, my pen,
When crime's dumb bells are round thee ring.

The number of emigrants arrived at New York from Europe in 1865 is 168,336.

It is now stated that General McClellan will spend the winter in Dresden.

To be Hung.—Kurtz, who murdered a Chinaman at Idaho City, has been sentenced to be hung on the 18th of January, 1866.

Rock which will yield one hundred to one thousand dollars per ton is yet being taken from the Allison mine, near Grass Valley.

One Jake Jordan was stabbed and killed by a man named Vic. Bowley, in a saloon scrape, at Boise city, on the 11th.

A. T. Beach, Esq., Paymaster, Overland Stage Line, Boise Division, was a passenger by yesterday's coach from the east.

At a fashionable restaurant in Richmond, recently, a party of over a dozen people [illegible] in a "niffer" to the "memory of Wirtz."

The titles of English novels become more and more quaint and grotesque every year. The latest announcement is called "Snooded Jessaline."

General Grant's Rank.—Congress Washington Grant [illegible] only two full Lieutenant Generals the country has ever had—General Scott only holding the title by brevet.

The stage travel east, west and north, these days of snow and sleds, is very light indeed. The traveling, though, makes [illegible] bounteous and bountiful heavy.

Fourteen thousand animals are known to have been attacked by the cattle plague since its first appearance in Great Britain, and of these nearly twelve thousand have died.

A New York correspondent estimates Mr. House's share of the profits from the introduction of "Arrah-na-Pogue" in this country, at twenty-five thousand dollars.

Barnum has purchased the poisoned pill Mrs. Winslow endeavored to pass from her own mouth into her husband's while kissing him, for the purpose of saving him from the gallows.

The most intense astonishment was exhibited in New York, a couple of weeks since, by a just returned Californian offering a twenty-dollar gold piece at par, for his fare in an Eighth Avenue street car! Policemen were on the watch of him for a whole week, thinking that he was dangerously demented!

The excess of males over females in the United States by the census of 1864 was 681,462, so that there is now more than a man for every woman in spite of the war, nor no need of a Mormon making comfortable [illegible] bounteous and bountiful heavy.

The Treasury Department is preparing to, immediately issue United Sates bonds amounting to $648,000 to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, Eastern Division, [illegible] per mile, in accordance with the law of Congress, forty miles of the road having been completed. In addition to this aid by the Government, certain quantities of land are to be given as the surveys proceed, and the road progresses.

Jewelry and Goods at Auction.—Let the ladies and gents, others and country come to Elgutter's Temple of Fashion, next to Ramsohoff & Co's, East Temple Street, next Friday and Saturday afternoons, at three o'clock, and "gobble up" the great bargains to be had in all styles of jewelry, trinkets, trimmings, and fashionable articles of ornament and use, for gents' and ladies' wear, as advertised in our columns.

Collector of Soldiers' Claims, &c.—Again we ask attention to the card of O. B. Fogle, Agent for the collection of claims of California Volunteers against their State; office 617 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California. He pays the highest price for soldiers' warrants, &c, and is [illegible] reliable and worthy of entrustment in anything of this kind. Our many military readers in Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, are especially directed to this California Agency, advertised elsewhere

Academy of Music, To-night.—This Wednesday evening, an unusual interesting entertainment is on the bills at this new and elegantly furnished "gentile" temple of the drama. The first piece will be the new domestic play entitled "The Three Generations," in which the Irwins will appear in splendid characters. The next piece is the great comedy—never performed here—called "The Soldier's Daughter," in which those versatile, sterling [illegible], as well as the ladies and gentlemen of the Potter Troupe, will all appear. Go one, go all! The house is so comfortably [illegible] of your city parlors.

The Place to Go To for fine holiday gifts and New Year presents, jewelry of the latest importation from San Francisco and New York, fine watches, fancy articles, &c. &c., is Meeks' Pioneer Jewelry Store, near the [illegible] Streets.

Theatrical.—The Academy of Music was patronized by the finest and most magnificent audience of the season. Monday night last. The plays were "The Colleen Bawn," and the "Fool of the Family," in both of which those very versatile [illegible] and Mrs. Irwin, acted with the greatest success, which was acknowledged by immense applause. Miss Belle Douglas, Messrs. Mortimer, Rainsforth, Townsend, Shields, Potter and Shields in the cast in both pieces, performed admirably. Mr. Parry gained the most vociferous encores, after his clever "Highland Fling." This theater, as now managed and made comfortable, is a perfect little palace for amusement. The Irwins are now bound to draw immense fine houses through their engagement.

That bungling [illegible] in our cotemporary's local columns, yesterday, reminds us of the mountain that labored and brought forth a mouse. What was originally intended and expressed as a play on the Telegraph [illegible] was a miserable manner of making mere mentions—on sleigh-riding and matters in general—was "transmogrified" into a calumny more bawdy and base than the stupid old scribbler that thus changed it.

He's an instance of that latter class of whom Dryden once said—"Well meaners think no harm, but for the rest—things sacred they'd pervert." The writer of this [illegible] so immeasurably high of that same professional lady as not to even have mentioned her name in that same rejoinder where a certain other character was quoted. Nor could a Jenny Lind, Eugene or Victoria have viewed the little joke in other than a twit upon the Telegraph ass's murky item—in the first place.

From Idaho Territory.

The Boise City Statesman says that on the 8th inst., the Assembly Hall was crowded for standing room yesterday upon the delivery of the Governor's Message. There were several hundred filling the lobby. A large number of ladies, as well as invited guests, occupied seats on the floor of the House. Many portions of the message were received with general applause.

From the northwestern cotemporary we clip as follows:

South Boise Affairs.—Mr. Wilson Waddingham gave us a call yesterday, just [illegible] from Rocky Bar. He brought along with him the evidences of the success of the Waddingham Company, in the shape of $9,200 worth of bullion, the result of thirteen days run. The average yield was about $82 per ton. The mill is going ahead, with the mines in condition to furnish rock enough to keep running all winter. The other mills are all doing well. Several other items we have no room for today.

We learn from the Avalanche that a meeting of the Territorial and County Superintendents of Schools will take place in this city on the 20th inst. It is expected that all persons interested in the advancement of education will be present and take a part. We presume that the above statement is by authority of the Territorial Superintendent, Mr. Chittenden.

Silver Mines near Idaho City.—We were shown a letter from Idaho City yesterday, to a citizen of this place, stating that a rich strike had been made in the shaft on the Fourth of July lode, located about two miles south, from Idaho. Four assays had been made with results from $403 to $1,100 per ton in silver. The shaft is over seventy feet in depth; the ledge is nine feet wide between casings dipping into the mountain, widening and growing richer every foot the work progresses.

"Just as the bee extracts her sweets,
Dews on the heath and flowers she meets,
What from many a source we drew
We give, tho' not the whole as new."

WHY do the recriminations of married couples resemble the sound of waves on the shore? Because they are murmurs of the tied.

By a mob, speaking of the ministers, declared that "the beggars 'ove um at its head."

A bad man may have courage in some things, but it lurks not in his badness, this redeeming trait. The stoicism of the savage is a savage virtue still.

A remarkable instance of the duration of financial connections in the city of London occurred a few days ago, the banking account of the house of the Baring Brothers & Co. having reached its hundredth year.

"Should I be discovered, I am lost!" exclaimed the hero of a melodrama, as he concealed himself in a closet, on the stage. "Should you be discovered, you are found," was the amendment of a wag in the gallery.

Everybody pays the penalty for being more enlightened than the great majority of his neighbors. Only the unusually strong minded can defy with fortitude and perseverance the ignorant prejudices of those by whom they are surrounded.

A sharp grocer, when a customer who was buying a gallon of molasses observed that a good deal remained in the measure after it was turned, remarked, "There was some in the measure before I put in your gallon."

Here is the pithiest sermon ever preached: "Our ingress in life is naked and bare: our progress in life is trouble and care; our egress out of it we know not where, but doing well here, we shall do well there; I could not tell more by preaching a year."

BE NEAT.—Young ladies, if they only knew how disgusting to men sloveliness is, and how attractive are displays of neatness and taste would array themselves in the simplicity and cleanliness of the lilies of the field; or if able to indulge in costly attire, they would study the harmonious blending of colors which nature exhibits in all her works. A girl of good taste and habits of neatness, can make a more fascinating toilet with a nine-penny calico dress, a few cheap ribbons and laces, and such ornaments as she can gather from the garden, than a vulgar, tawdry creature, who is worth thousands and has the jewelry and wardrobes of a princess.
